Dated at Haldimand County this the 28 of January 2015

Summerhaven Wind, LP (Summerhaven) a subsidiary of NextEra Energy Canada, LP (NextEra), received a Renewable Energy Approval (REA) for the Summerhaven Wind Energy Project on March 16, 2012. Construction began in May 2012 and the Project became operational in August 2013.

We are requesting modifications to the REA Conditions of Approval relating to the Post Construction Follow up Plan for the overall purpose of reducing potential impacts to bats during the operational phase of the Project. Summerhaven, along with biologists from Normandeau Environmental Consultants, is conducting a three-year (2014-2016) comprehensive scientific study and comparison of bat activity, mortality locations and atmospheric conditions in order to identify an approach to proactively implement targeted operational mitigation. The proposed changes to the Post Construction Follow up Plan involve changing any operational mitigation that may be required under the REA in order to test an operational mitigation strategy at approximately 20 wind turbines.

This notice is being distributed at the request of the Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change (MOECC) to inform the public of an upcoming meeting regarding this proposed modification.
